

Please join us for the 2011-2012 Season

Wednesday, November 16th ~ 6:00 PM Historic Stranahan House Museum - 335 SE 6th Avenue (at Las Olas Blvd.)

Docent Nancy Grieg will share the history, customs, and preparations regarding the Victorian Christmas. Guests will enjoy a walk-through of the historic house museum beautifully decorated for the holidays by Flowers and Found Objects. Light refreshments will be served.

Wednesday, December 14th ~ 6:00 PM

Fort Lauderdale Historical Society - 219 Southwest 2nd Avenue

Historian Michael Kennedy will appear as Napoleon Bonaparte Broward, the 19th Governor of Florida. The Governor will engage the audience with an animated discussion of his rise from deckhand to governor, including his nine-year stint as sheriff of Duval County, his days as a gun runner, and his work supervising the draining of the Everglades.

Some free parking is available in the red brick parking lot onsite. Additional paid parking can be found on SW 2nd Street and there is a Fort Lauderdale public parking garage diagonally across from the buildings and just east of the railroad tracks.

Wednesday, January 18th ~ 6:00 PM

Save the date, more details to follow.

Wednesday, February 15th ~ 6:00 PM

Broward Public Library Foundation at Cinema Paradiso - 503 SE 6th Street, Fort Lauderdale

Patricia Schultz, named one of the 25 most influential women in travel by Forbes Magazine, author of 1,000 Places to See Before You Die series and Executive Producer of the Travel Channel's reality show of the same name, will discuss her latest project, 1,000 Places to See Before You Die, the second edition: Completely Revised and Updated with Over 200 New Entries.

Parking is available free of charge at the meters after 6:00 PM or in the Broward County Courthouse garage

Kindly RSVP to any of these events through Broward Public Library Foundation's Event Hotline
(954) 357-5954 or NRogers@bplfoundation.org